Harvest Festival Ode.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

This day, two hundred years ago,
The wild grape by the river's side,
And tasteless ground-nuts trailing low,
The table of the woods supplied.

Unknown the apple's red and gold,
The blushing tint of peach and pear;
The mirror of the Powow told
No tale of orchards ripe and rare.

Wild as the fruits he scorned to till,
These vales the idle Indian trod;
Nor knew the glad, creative skill,
The joy of him who toils with God.

O Painter of the fruits and flowers!
We thank Thee for thy wise design
Whereby these human hands of ours
In Nature's garden work with Thine.

And thanks, that from our daily need
The joy of simple faith is born;
That he who smites the Summer weed,
May trust Thee for the Autumn corn.

Give fools their gold and knaves their power,
Let fortune's bubbles rise and fall;
Who sows a field, or trains a flower,
Or plants a tree, is more than all.

For he who blesses most is blest;
And God and man shall own his worth
Who toils to leave at his bequest
An added beauty to the earth.

And, soon or late, to all that sow
The time of harvest shall be given;
The flower shall bloom, the fruit shall grow,
If not on earth, at last in heaven.

HOW TO GET A NEWSPAPER.

AN ACTUAL DIALOGUE.

We clip the following from the N. Y. Evening Post, but it will apply well to all newspapers:—

THE RETREAT, December 13th, 186[illegible].

"Charles, where is the Evening Post?"

"Wife, the price is raised four cents a copy, and I have concluded not to take it any longer; and have ordered it stopped."

"Why, Charles, how could you be so unwise? The price up to 1856, was four cents, and your father was a reader of the Evening Post for nearly fifty years. And I cannot remember when it was not a part of my family. And now, when food and labor, and the raw material of the printer, to say nothing of telegraph, army correspondence and expenditure of total forces of the brain, have so largely increased in price, you have stopped the Evening Post, because it cost the enormous price of six cents a week."

"Well, there is no use in talking, I can't afford to take newspapers at the increased price." "Is there not some items of expenditure we can reduce and have the Evening Post? I have read its pages so long it has become a real necessity of my daily life.—And, what will Willie and Nellie do without it? They should not be deprived of the intelligence and instruction they derive from its well-selected articles and its able editorial pages. Let me ask you, Charles, how many cigars you smoke in a day, and what they cost?"

"I will answer you, wife—but yet—I cannot live without cigars. They are a second-nature necessity. But I smoke regularly three cigars a day, and often more. They cost me eight cents apiece—that is twenty-four cents a day, one dollar and sixty-eight cents a week, six dollars and seventy-two cents a month, and seventy-five dollars and twenty-four cents a year."

"And yet, Charles, you cannot afford to take the Evening Post at four cents a day. You can't take the paper for a week, at the price of cigars a day. This is more of a contribution to a habit that it is a compliment to your head. But allow me to mention some other expenses that you might dispense with without any injury to you in any way. You are in the habit of taking a glass of brandy after your lunch down-town every day; and this costs you seventy-two cents a week, and at least forty dollars a year. And, then, in the business in which you are engaged—confined, yes, almost coffined—in an office from nine o'clock until four each day, you would be the gainer in physical strength and energy, and in elasticity of spirits, if you would walk down and up morning and evening with Mr. C., instead of riding in a close omnibus, in a prison atmosphere. And here you would save some forty dollars a year more, and be the gainer besides. Now let us see these items together:

Cigars, a year	$75.22
Brandy do	40.00
Omnibus do	40.00
Total	$155.22

"What do you say? Can't you afford to cut down these items of expense to $142.00, and take the Evening Post, we have read together so long?"

"Wife, I think I ought to, and I will bring it up, or rather I will order it left on Monday at ten o'clock a year. And when I return in the evening I will discuss the matter of smoking and drinking and riding, and of placing in the savings bank the sum of one hundred and forty-five dollars and twenty-two cents a year, as capital for Willie to start business with if he lives, or as a marriage portion for Nellie, when she shall, like her mother, make some man happy. The fact is, wife, too much money is expended in injurious habits. By the way, some days ago I picked up the Atlantic Monthly, and Professor Holmes, in "My Hunt after the Captain," says of the "Quaker City," he likes so well, "the water edge of the town looking bedraggled like the flounce of a vulgar rich woman's dress that trails on the sidewalk." Now, if the one hundred thousand women of New York, whose dresses trail on the sidewalks, many of whom are neither "vulgar" nor "rich" would cut the skirts four inches shorter, this would save some eleven thousand one hundred and eleven yards of silk, &c., at one dollar a yard, and it would make quite a fund for newspapers for the family, for the army, or for any useful or charitable purpose. Let the ladies cut short their trails, and the gentlemen their cigars, drinks and riding, and much good could be done with the money saved."

WARREN'S COUGH BALSAM

Has been found, by experience, to be the Best Remedy for the various Diseases of the Lungs and Throat, such as

Diphtheria,

Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Croup, Influenza, Pleurisy, Pneumonia or Inflammation of the Lungs, and Whooping Cough.

In these Complaints this Medicine has NO SUPERIOR, and while thus efficacious, it is perfectly SAFE to administer to persons of all ages.

At all times of the year this Balsam is found useful, especially in the Autumn, Winter and Spring, and many Colds and Coughs, which if neglected, might prove fatal, may be CURED at once by a few doses of this invaluable remedy.

This Cough Balsam possesses the two-fold advantage of being at once soothing or curative and laxative or a preventive of all the diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchia.

In DIPHTHERIA this Balsam has proved itself unexpectedly efficacious. When given at the first onset of the Pestilence, it checks it at once; and in many cases, is believed by those who have used it, to have saved their lives.

In ASTHMA, however violent and distressing, this Balsam gives prompt relief.

In BRONCHITIS and PNEUMONIA it relieves the irritation, loosens the Cough, and promotes a favorable expectoration.

In CROUP its powers are almost magical. This insidious disease, coming literally "like a thief in the night," may be speedily and effectually arrested by a few timely doses of this Balsam.

In WHOOPING COUGH it moderates the paroxysms, prevents the disease from assuming its severest and dangerous form, and shortens it course.

Every family should keep it in the house, and thus avoid the dangerous delay occasioned by sending out for the medicine when needed for immediate use.

The best recommendation for a good medicine is found in its use. If the following certificate, from one who has used it does not give you confidence in it, try one bottle for yourself, and you will be convinced. It will cost you but twenty five cents, and may save you as many dollars in time and doctors' bills.

Letter from Col. Roberts.

FRIEND WARREN:—Allow me to thank you for the beautiful supply of Cough Balsam received by me from you, through Lieut. Bearce. Many a soldier in my command, as well as officers, has experienced the beneficial effects of the same. We all pronounce the article sound—as does our brigade surgeon, Dr. Hayman, of Boston, to whom I presented a bottle.

NEGRO-CATCHING BAFFLED IN KENTUCKY.

COL. WILLIAM L. UTLEY, of the Wisconsin Twenty-second, is a perfect thorn to rebel sympathizers. On the twenty-second of November, as the Federal army was moving from Louisville to Lexington, Ky., several slaves entered his lines. Their master, a rebel, demanded them. The Colonel replied that he had not come to Kentucky to restore fugitive slaves, and so mean a thing he would not do.

The master repaired to Gen. Quincy A. Gilmore and obtained an order for Col. Utley to surrender the negroes. The Colonel still refused. He declared that he had nothing to do with the coming of these slaves into his lines, and would have nothing to do with sending them out.

Gen. Gilmore immediately ordered him to report at headquarters. He was very much excited as Col. Utley entered.

"Sir," said he, "I issued an order to you yesterday to give up certain contrabands in your regiment."

"And sir," replied the Colonel, "I refused to obey that order."

"I shall issue that order again to-morrow morning," said the General, "and if you do not obey it, you will suffer the consequences."

"Gen. Gilmore," replied the Colonel, "you must not be at the trouble to issue that order again; I shall not obey it, if you have anything to do with me, you can just as well commence now as to-morrow."

Finding that the Colonel was not to be brow-beaten, the General made an effort to obtain the negroes by an insidious stratagem. He had another interview, and informed Col. Utley that he was going to brigade all the negroes coming into his lines, and wished him to send for that purpose all that he had in his lines.

"When we get more than we want, General," replied Utley, "I will send them."

The next expedient adopted was to frighten the Colonel; and several inplicates Gov. Robinson in the conspiracy. The rebel sympathizers of Georgetown gave out word that unless their negroes were forthcoming they would mob the Twenty-second as it passed through that place, and take away the slaves. Gen. Gilmore sought to facilitate this project by sending forward all the other regiments, leaving the Twenty-second to march alone.

Gov. Robinson, who lives near that town, had an interview with Col. Utley on the subject. The Colonel gave notice that if it was intended to molest him, the Governor should clear the town of women and children, as he should march through with muskets loaded and bayonets fixed; and in case the attempt should be made to take away the contrabands from his regiment, he would level the town with the ground, and not leave one stone upon another.

He carried out his word. When the rebel mob saw the fixed bayonets, "a sober second thought" led them to offer no slight to the daring Wisconsin men. Finally, an invitation to tea was extended to Col. Utley and his officers, but was declined.

But the pro-slavery, half-disloyal Kentuckians were not yet willing to yield the controversy. Judge Robinson issued a warrant for the arrest of the Colonel, for stealing negroes in violation of the laws of Kentucky, and gave the Sheriff instructions to serve it, even though he should have to get a military force from Gen. Gilmore to help him.

This Gen. Gilmore seems to have a proclivity towards stepping out of his legitimate duties for the purpose of returning slaves. While the Illinois Ninety-second were quartered at Mount Sterling, fifteen negroes, the slaves of notorious rebels, came into their camp and were employed as servants. Application was made to Gen. Gordon Granger, who issued an order to Col. Atkins not to let any persons, white or black, come into his lines. But as this was not what the slaveholding traitors wanted, they obtained an order sending the regiment away, from Mount Sterling.

At Winchester, on the road to Lexington, the citizens made the threat that they would, with the aid of the Kentucky Fourteenth, chastise the Illinoians. Col. Atkins marched through the town with fixed bayonets and loaded guns, fully as willing to fight traitors in that way as any other.

At Lexington the rabble broke into the ranks of the ninety-second, and attempted to take away a negro belonging to one of the vilest of the Kentucky secessionists. Col. Atkins rode to the spot, and warned the miscreants away.

"If you dare to interfere with my march," said he, "I will fire a volly among you so help me God."

This was sufficient; they retreated, and the regiment continued its march to Nicolasville.

But the slave-hunters were not contented to let the matter go in this manner.

An order of delivery from the Fayette Circuit Court was served on Col. Atkins for the delivery of two slaves, belonging to Emily G. Hand, with a letter from Gen. Gilmore.

The General wrote that the military powers had no right to resist the execution of civil process, and that the attempt to do so would render them amenable to the severe law of Kentucky. Col. Atkins replied;

"GENERAL: I have your note. I beg to state that I am under orders to proceed southward with my command, and I do not know at what moment I may find the enemy, and I cannot afford to piddle away my time in hunting up niggers or in replying to bills in chancery filed against me. When the war is over, and I am at leisure, I will answer any civil process; but I beg to assure you, General, that I am now altogether too busy with a terrible rebellion and bloody war to be fooling away my time in writing answers to bills in chancery filed by secesh on sympathizers. I have not resisted, and do not expect to, for I have not a single nigger in my possession at all, but I cannot stop answer formally in court."

Not being able to make any advantage out of the Colonel of the Ninety-second, the secession sympathizers have since resorted to calumny, alleging that that regiment was committing depredations on private property and running slaves out of Kentucky.

AN IRON EGG.—In Dresden there is an iron egg, the history of which is something like this: [illegible] A young prince [illegible] a lady [illegible] to whom he was betrothed. She recieved it in her hand and looked at it with disdain. In her indignation that he should send her such a gift she cast it to the earth. When it touched the ground a spring, cunningly hidden in the egg, opened and a silver yolk rolled out. She touched a secret spring in the yolk and a golden chicken was revealed. She touched a spring in the chicken and a crown was found within; she touched a spring in the crown and within it was a diamond marriage ring.

There is a moral to the story.

The Walled Lake in Iowa a Fable.

G. W. Bell of Croton, Mich., in a letter to the Scientific American says:

Having read an article some three years since, in regard to a wonderful walled lake in Wright county, Iowa, which I see repeatedly published lately, I wish to give you the facts in regard to it, which I am prepared to do from personal observation. Having occasion to visit that part of the State in 1860, I made inquiries of "the oldest inhabitants" of Clear Lake City—on the beautiful Clear Lake of Cerro Gordo County, some forty miles from Wall Lake—in regard to it. They smiled at the self. But in traveling from that point to Fort Dodge, I went some twenty-four miles from the direct route to see for myself the wonders of Wall Lake. I passed along its banks far enough to bring the whole shore into distinct view, and could discover nothing in the least remarkable from what is frequently to be found in the lakes of that region, or what could easily be accounted for by those who are familiar with the action of the ice on the shores of those northern lakes. The writer of this article, I presume, was nearly correct in regard to its area; but its shape is rather irregular and the wall is broken and uneven; in many places it entirely disappears in a sand and gravel beach. In no spot could I discover anything more than a low and irregular line of pebbles and bowlders, intermixed with earth, from two to six feet in light, which has, evidently been shoved up by the expansion of ice. In parts where there was not sufficient coarse stone or bowlders to retain the earth and gravel, the action of the water during the Summer would wash down the work of the Winter's frost, and leave a beautiful beach from the margin up to the alluvial soil, which is from two to ten feet above the water. I have seen walls in every respect similar on other lakes of that region, which seem to be composed of drift and lost rock which abound in that vicinity.

This ice action is quite considerable and remarkable in these extensive lakes; it frequently forms to the depth of two feet or more, and the expansion of a mile or so of surface acts with great force on the banks, lifting up large masses of frozen earth and bowlders weighing tons and shoving them several feet from the shore, and during very sudden and severe changes its motion is often perceptible to the eye.

This walled lake seemed to be shallow, as the most of its surface was shaded with a growth of flags and rushes; it also appeared to be the paradise of ducks and geese; it might just as properly be termed a large goose-pond as a lake. I discovered no apparent outlet and saw no indications of its overflow or change of level.

STORY OF THE PRESIDENT.

The Oneida Herald tells the following story, assuring its readers that it is veritable.

Those who were of the unusually large company that besieged the waiting-room adjoining the President's apartment in the White House, on the morning of the 23d of September—the day succeeding the issue of the proclamation of freedom—will doubtless never forget a remarkable incident that then transpired. A gentleman had discovered the President, through a slight opening between the folding doors on the right of the ante-chamber, pacing slowly up and down the long and thickly-carpeted hall.—Tall, angular with hair snarled and unkempt, whiskers awry, collar in creases and slippers very much down at the heel; his eyes gazing low at vacancy, his shoulders drooping; one hand behind his back, the fingers twitching nervously; the other thoughtfully pulling at his beard—in garb ill-fitting, in face homely and impressive, and in manner patient, resolute, meditative—this was the figure that immediately after discovery became the cynosure of a constellation of eyes. Whispered remarks were made, one by, an elderly gentleman to the effect that the President would not keep faith with the letter of the proclamation. A young girl of remarkable beauty, who hung upon his arm, and who had been gazing on the subject of the doubt with undisguised admiration, looked up rather scornfully and said: "Won't he? I'm not afraid of it—you shall see;" and relinquishing the gentleman's arm, she passed, to the intense astonishment of all, through the doorway, moved up the hall with an air of exquisite grace, and paused almost in front of Mr. Lincoln, who stopped in surprise. "Pardon!" pleaded the intruder, in a short, French way; then, earnestly looking up in his face: "but, they say, Mr. President, you will not keep your word about the slaves. I love you for the words, and say you will.—Which is it?" The face of the President was radiant as he bent to take her hand and said: "You need not fear. I shall not fail." The questioner, with a suppressed triumphant "I knew it," withdrew, while the slow walk in the hall went on.

A WISE REMARK. "Having in my youth," says a celebrated writer, "notions of severe piety, I used to rise in the night to watch, pray and to read the Koran. One night whilst deeply engaged in these exercises, my father, a man of practical virtue, awoke while I was reading. "Behold," said I to him, "thy other children are lost in irreligious slumber, while I alone awake to praise God." "Son of my soul," he answered, "It is better to sleep than to awake to remark the faults of thy brethren."

[illegible] while entering his cold bed in a cold winter night, exclaimed, "Of all the ways of getting a living, the worst a man could follow, would be going about town such nights as this, and getting into beds for [illegible]."

EARLY INFLUENCES.

There can be no greater blessing than to be born in the light and air of a cheerful loving home. It not only insures a happy childhood—if there be health and a good constitution—but it also makes sure a virtuous and happy manhood, and a fresh, young heart in old age. I think it every parent's duty to try to make their children's childhood full of love and childhood's proper joyousness; and I never see children destitute of them through the poverty, faulty tempers, or wrong notions of their parents, without a heartache. Not that all the appliances which wealth can buy are necessary to the free and happy unfolding of childhood in body, mind and heart—quite otherwise God be thanked; but children must at least have love inside the house, and fresh air, and good play, and some good companionship outside: otherwise young life runs the greatest danger in the world of withering, or growing stunted, or at best prematurely old and turned inward on itself.—Dr. Oldham at Greystones.

An Old Standard Remedy.

For Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all Pulmonary Complaints, use the

which has maintained its high reputation for nearly FORTY YEARS, and is recommended by many of the most eminent physicians and gentlemen in the country, among whom are Rev. Josiah Litch, Philadelphia; Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher, New York, the late Prof. Leonard Woods, Andover Theological Seminary, D. P. Thompson formerly Secretary of State, Vt., Drs. Merrill, Perry, Abell, Parker, Berry, and many others, by the Press, and by the largest and oldest dealers in drugs and medicines in the United States and Canada.

OPINIONS OF THE TRADE.—"We know of no medicine which has deservedly sustained so high a reputation for so long a term of years, or which more rarely disappoints the reasonable expectations of those who use it."

[Signed by many of the oldest and most respectable druggists in the United States.]

Extracts from Letters received from Physicians.

"I with confidence recommend it as superior to any other preparation for the above complaints."—"It has a superiority over every kind of medicine used, and has been used for lung complaints with wonderful success."—"I am satisfied it is a valuable medicine."—"It is a safe, convenient, and very efficacious medicine."—"To my knowledge, it has never disappointed the reasonable expectations of those who have used it."—"I confidently recommend its use in all complaints of the chest, as equal, if not superior, to any other medicine within my knowledge."—"Of all the principal remedies used for coughs, I am satisfied yours is the best, and hope it will be better known and more generally used."—"I have prescribed your balsam, and regard it as the most valuable and effective remedy within my knowledge."

Extract of a letter just received from a gentleman, ordering some of the Balsam:

"Markesan, Green Lake Co., Wisconsin, Dec. 12, 1862. Messrs. Reed, Cutler & Co.—Gentlemen: For some twenty years I have used your Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in my family, but more particularly for myself. When I first used it, I was given up by physicians as past cure of Consumption. I obtained immediate help. I have always kept it since, and consider it, for the lungs, the best medicine I ever used. I have recommended it in several cases and in nearly every case it has proved beneficial.—It cured one lady after the doctors had pronounced her incurable. Respectfully yours,
B. H. ROBINSON."

PRICE.—Small size, 50 cents; large, $1. Be careful to get the genuine, which is prepared only by REED, CUTLER & CO., Boston, and sold by dealers generally. Dec 30—2awd&w3m

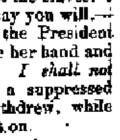
Land in Franklin, Maine.



About 15,000 acres of Land, supposed to contain, on an average, about five thousand of stumpage to the acre, of Spruce, Hemlock and Pine, besides much hard wood, and a good growth of young thrifty Juniper—a pond or lake, near the centre, of about 1000 acres, with a good water power at its outlet. This pond flows, by the present dam, about 1000 acres of meadow, which can be put into grass, to great advantage, by withdrawing the flowage. The Mill is but a short distance from tide water, where the lumber is loaded.

This property, by mortgage, fell into the hands of the present owners, who reside at a distance, and the land will be sold at an immense bargain to any one who has the facility and inclination to manage it. Correspondence of the Whig & Courier.

AUGUSTA Jan. 9th, 1863.

This morning a highly respectable gentleman of lymph altitude above the level of the sea, and infinite nose, stalked angrily into the apartment where the great STELLION who rules for the Whig ordinarily abides, and placing his adamantine fist into immediate and dangerous proximity to the proboscis of your correspondent, he roared in thunder tones, "Justice! Justice!" making at the same time certain demonstrations with his boots which forcibly reminded me that I was mortal, and also suggested to me the idea that the iron clads Montauk and Passaic could be navigated on dry land. "Justice!" said I "You shall have it. My father once knew a man who formerly drove a yoke of oxen which Governor Coburn talked of buying—some years ago. See, therefore, that I have a right to ask a favor of the Chief Magistrate. You shall be appointed, but the commission will cost you five dollars." "Justice for Sic 'e," shouts he.—"Certainly," replied I, "and for the County of Piscataquis, too." "You a-pear to be a fool!" said he. I then for the first time began to suspect something wrong, and says I, "what is the matter, Uncle Tom?" "That's what's the matter," answers he, p-ut-ting before me a paper headed "Are you deaf?" "put it into the Whig, next issue, and don't omit my initials!" I won't have Sebec outraged while I have an arm to uplift in her defence;" whereupon he turned his boots toward the door and sailed away in them, leaving east-by-east, with a slight list to starboard, and the wind blowing fresh on his larboard quarter. Here is the article:—

"DO YOU DON'T."

Mr Editor: I notice by the Age of the 5th, that at the Democratic Caucus, Joseph Chase of Sebec, was nominated "as a candidate for Councilor." Now I have no objection to their nominating Mr. Chase. There seems to be a peculiar fitness to the action.—" Birds of a feather flock together." But when they undertake to locate him in Sebec, it is a little more than that worthy town deserves to bear. True, he did reside there years ago, but he left that location without causing any regret that I ever heard of.

Mr. Chase is one of the old democrats that have gone to seed.—They seem for like the South and its institutions, and to be anxious to abase themselves at the feet of their idol, slavery. If Dover is disposed to bear the honors attached to this would-be councilor, I have no objection, but, Messrs Editors, in the name of Sebec, my favorite town, I desire to correct the error into which the Age has fallen. J. H.

In joint convention to-day, John H. Peby of Oxford, Charles Holden of Portland, Horace B Hrscott of New Sharon, James Bell of Bath-egan, Charles Stetson of Bangor, Eben Woodbury of Houlton, and Raymond H. Thorndike, were elected councilors for the different political years by an average vote of 115 against a vote of 40 for Israel Chaldbourne of Alfred, Sewall C. Strout of Portland, R. H. Bridgham of Cast ne, Samon Taylor of Fairfield, S. S. Bray of Freeman, Josiah Bridgham of Somerville, and Joseph Chase of Sebec, (?) the democratic candidates.

The Secretary of State, Adjutant General and Attorney General were elected by the same vote A. P. Gould of Thomaston was re-n by the Democrats for Secretary of State, Wm. H. Burrell of Belfast for Adjutant General, and S. J Anderson of Portland for Attorney General.

Mr. Crosby of Dexter offered an order of investigate affairs of Land Office so far as to ascertain whether any deduction can be made in the expense of that office. Passed.

The bill extending the law authorizing suspension of specie payments until Jan. 1st, 1864, passed in both branches.

In the House an order was passed fixing Tuesday next (13th inst.) to elect U. S. Senator. An order was also passed referring the subject of our defences to a joint select committee.

Yours, CRAYON.

☞ We extract a paragraph from a Richmond paper relative to the removal of General Butler from command of New Orleans, and the unanimity of the feeling evoked in the South:

"Lincoln has superseded the Beast, but has not punished him. The blood of the unavenged Rutherford cries out against him from the ground. Crimes which have shocked the world clamour for retribution. If Lincoln screens and shields Butler, the blow which justice designs for him will fall on the commissioned officers of the army. They will languish in prison in expiation of their crimes. They cannot fail to place the blame where it belongs. The sentiment of the country everywhere explains against Butler, as the foul disgrace of his species.—From the bosom of the demoralized North itself the cry of outraged decency and virtuous disgust has not been wholly stifled by the terrors of despotism and the insanity of disbelief. Lincoln's incarcerated officers of police agree that one man such as Butler's must be expiated, while lamenting that the complicity of their master deprives the suffering upon them."

ALLOTMENTS FOR THE 11TH REGIMENT. The Stetson Last rose red $1696, allotted by Companies D, E, and I, 11th Maine. This regiment has been paid in full to November 1st.

Rev. Joshua Hall, who died at Frankfort, December 23rd, 1862, was born in Dewistown, Sussex county, Delaware, October 22d, 1768. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church 77 years and a minister of the Gospel of Christ, 76 years. He represented the town of Frankfort eight years in the Massachusetts Legislature, and six in the Maine Legislature at Portland. Was two years in the Senate of Maine, and was elected President of that body, and on the death of the Governor, filled the Gubernatorial chair for a short time. During the long life of over 94 years, his spirits and amiable disposition. On being asked, just before he died, if he had any message or the like to leave his East Maine Conference, of which he was a member, he replied, "Tell them I go to heaven triumph—there is no darkness on the path." His funeral services took place at Frankfort Mills village, and were attended by a large audience, many coming from neighboring towns. And just at the close of day, as they laid him down to rest in a spot of table land, about half way from the village to his residence, on the top of the high hill, the sun came out from behind the clouds, and his rays came beautifully through the valley at the west, and lay calmly on his grave, as if the sun would say—"Father Hall, I cheer thee at the grave, and will greet thee again in the morning."

Any person who has kept necessary to a sketch of his life, will confer a favor by forwarding them to me, at Hampden, Maine.

E. A. HAMMATT.

☞ At the annual meeting of the West Penobscot Agricultural Society held at Kenduskeag, the 7th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year

President—Ezekiel F. Cobb, Kenduskeag.
Vice Presidents—Benjamin Ball, Corinth; Francis Wardell, Exeter; Joseph L. Sias, Levant.
Secretary and Treasurer—Timothy P. Batchelder, Kenduskeag.
Agent and Librarian—David Barker, Exeter.
Trustees—Hiram Buzzell, Kenduskeag; Moses Bedlict, Stetson; William Spratt, Corinth.

☞ In a certain Postoffice there is a specimen of humanity present Thursday evening, who undoubtedly is the most stupid stage of the President, his Cabinet our Generals, and all anti-slavery men in particular. When our army at Benton, he spoke in the highest praise of recent officers; and when we are victorious, he is shocked at the great loss of life. A short time since he had been looking at the pictures of rebe generals, as those for sore eyes, and was admiring the good looks of those enemies of our nation, thought they were beautiful, sic. This reminds me of the idiotic boy, whose mother, feeling promised him a walk in the sweet depths of Bolds. In taking his walk, he came near where a skunk had been killed; lifting up his head and taking liberal snuffs, he exclaimed with great delight, "Mother, isn't this bootiful, bootiful, mother!"

☞ At the annual communication of Meridian Splendor Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, holden in Masonic Hall, Norway, Jan. 6th, 1863, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Alfred Mann, Master; Harvey Moor, S. W.; Samuel Emery, J. W.; Atkinson Hobart, Treas.; Francis H Shaw, Sec.; Joseph Knight, S. D.; Joseph Jones, jr. D.; Harrison Davis Chaplain; E. S. Perkins, S. S.; E. O. Severance, J. S.; John Holbrook, Tyler.

A certain dealer in adulterated liquors, who keeped his platform over his own sidewalk, was recently accused the other day, on offering some of his customers to sustenance, to have it refused by the issue on the ground that he didn't take "Confederate scrip."—Rockland Democrat.

BIG MISTOR. Mr. J. A. Bingley, whose farm crosses the Cowspit Bridge, on the road to West Waterville, recently sold to Mr. Isaac Doolittle of our village a coarse wool wether, four years old, which weighed 216 lbs. A cross Leicester weighing 154 lbs., was taken from the same flock last spring.—Waterville Mail.

CHARLES G HOLT, son of Samuel Holt of Hancock, died at the Kennebec Hospital, Augusta, Wednesday, Dec. 24th, aged 20 years. He was an exemplary young man.

☞ The Ellsworth American says they had a large meeting at that place in response to the President's Proclamation. A. F. Drinkwater, Esq., was called to the chair and speeches were made by Messrs. Pote, Wilson, Williams, Cole, Joy and Sawyer. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

☞ A private letter from the 6th Maine Regiment, states that Lieut. Walter S. Goodale of this city, was shot through the head while endeavoring to assist Lieut. Bourne, who was wounded in the first of the engagement.—There is little hope of recovering his body, as it lies upon the rebel side of the river, and the exact spot is not known.

RESCUED. The officers and crew of the ship Herald of Sunderland, Capt. Claproth, which foundered at sea the 6th ult., were taken off by Capt Lyons of the ship Empress, of St. John, N. B., and brought into Eastport. Every attention was paid to them, and Capt. Claproth expresses his thanks in a card published in the Eastport Sentinel.

☞ Andrew T. Foss, for a long time an able lecturer upon slavery, has been speaking in Maine for the two or three weeks last past, and it is expected that he will speak in this city next week.

☞ The remains of Charles E. Bailey, a private in the 22d regiment, who died with fever at Fortress Monroe, have been sent to his friends at Milford for interment.

SKATING ACCIDENT. We learn from the Sentinel that a son of Sheriff Dibbles of Woodstock, while skating on Wednesday, went into an air hole, and was with difficulty rescued by two boys before life was quite extinct.

—Aroostook Pioneer.

SUDDEN DEATH. Mr. Hiram Crowell, a well known farmer in the west part of this town, died very suddenly on Saturday evening last. He had just returned from the west village, apparently in usual health; but after assisting in carrying in a quarter of beef, he fell upon the floor and immediately expired. He was about 75 years old.—Waterville Mail.

Sheriff Laughton has entered upon the duties of his office, and has made the following appointments of deputies—B. F. Sprague, Appleton; James Lincoln, Washington, Nahum Thurston, jr., Union; Nath'l Moody, Thomaston; B. F. Clark, 2d, Bangor.

—Rockland Press.

A man by the name, of Isaac Brewster of Rockland, jumped overboard on Monday morning from a vessel in that harbor, and was drowned.

☞ We regret to learn that Joseph Taney, C. E., has been compelled to resign his post as Acting Superintendent of the Bangor, Oldtown and Milford Railroad, in consequence of some disagreement with the President of the road in regard to matters beyond his control. Mr. Taney has been identified for years with the road, and has superintended all the improvements made on the road since it fell into the hands of the present owners, and he now retires from the service without reproach. He has a large circle of friends, both in social and business intercourse, all of whom regret his withdrawal. We have not learned that any one has been appointed to succeed him.

THE CANAL at Vicksburg. According to the New York Herald the sagacious plan adopted by Brigadier General Williams last fall of cutting off Vicksburg from the banks of the Mississippi, by making a rivers on in the channel of that river, appears likely to be carried out most effectually by the operations of nature. The rise in the river is widening and deepening the artificial channe or cut of General Williams to such an extent as to disarm the citizens of Vicksburg last they should find themselves in an inland town before next spring. It is thought that the course of the Mississippi will be so changed at this point in a few months that vessels of the largest class can go through the new channel and navigate the river without passing Vicksburg at all.

HOW THE RESCUE RESCUED TO THEIR NORTHERN FRIENDS. George Saunders has addressed a letter on the Mobile Tribune to his old associates, Gov. Seymour, John Van Buren and Fernando Wood, telling them if they really want to help the South, they should proclaim that the abolition war debt is to be repudiated, and no cent of it ever paid, and that half or all of the confederate debt shall be paid by the North. That would be manly and to some purpose. The Richmond Whig thinks such a proposition is very bold, but hopes they will at least have the effect to show the Northern Democrats that their dream of a reconstruction of the Union can never be realized. And it tells the Northern Democratic leaders that they have got to experience civil war at the North, in order to put down the Puritans, before they can have any peace and comfort.

THOUGHTS IN MY GARDEN. By Alfred G Ware, Author of "Elements of Character." Boston: Crosby & Nichols.

To those who have read the former works of this author, no recommendation of the present book is necessary. Her "Thoughts" are of the most beautiful character; dressed in a style that cannot fail to attract the interest of all. In this volume she very cleverly inculcates great moral truths under the pleasing guise of pictures in nature, and the works of the varying seasons. It should be in every household.

LECTURES ON SELF CULTURE, and the Elevation of the Laboring Classes. By Rev. Wm E Channing, D D. Boston: Crosby & Nichols. 1863.

The newspapers very generally are urging some recognition, by medals or promotion, of those brave fellows who led the forlorn hope in the laying of the pontoon bridge at Fredericksburg.

When the draft took place in Fairfield, Oxon., September 10, a poor man was drafted, who had a large family dependent upon him for support. In five days he was to report for service. When his name was called it was answered to by Benjamin B. Bisbee, son of Jabez Bisbee, a man of wealth and influence in that town, and doing business in New York. Young Bisbee had previously refused an officer's commission. He went, not as the rich frequently, but "already soon prepared" to a regimentary.

ST. LOUIS 8th

General Curtis has received the following despatch from General Brown:

Springfield, Mo., 8th—3 p m.

The enemy are crowding the fighting, but my men are behaving well I am holding all the strong positions. The enemy must fight as I want him to, whether he likes it or not.

(Signed) GEN. BROWN.

Dr. Melcher has just sent the following despatch dated this afternoon:

General Brown is badly wounded.

There has been no severe fighting since noon The enemy are in large force.

The rebels took one of our guns, but were repulsed at once.

Mills, a reconnoissance is coming in.

Prisoners say that General Marmaduke is in command of the rebels and will be reinforced to-night.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., 8th,

At noon today, the California section of the Pacific Railroad was inaugurated with imposing ceremonies. Both branches of the Legislature adjourned in honor of the occasion.

Distinguished representatives from nearly every portion of the State participated in the proceedings, which were witnessed by a vast concourse of people.

Governor Stanford presided. At 12,30, P M, precisely, the Governor struck in the spade for the railroad embankment in front of the city.

Eloquent speeches were made, and all allusions to the great work as a bond of union, as well as a natural highway of trade, were received with enthusiastic cheers.

BOSTON, 9th.

Governor Andrew's message, delivered to-day, is a very lengthy and comprehensive document.

The public debt of the State is $5,257,000, deducting to meet which the ...$600,000. The disbursements for the past year amounted to ... 683,891. The treasury presents a spectacle of strength and prosperity unusual only in peace.

The aggregate number of troops raised by the State is 80,000.

Banking institutions are reported in a sound condition. The Governor alternately in former ... one that radical changes in the financial system should be adopted with great caution

Much space is devoted to educational subjects, and the establishment of a College for instruction in agriculture, mechanic arts, and military tactics.

All material interests of State are represented as prosperous

In conclusion the Governor alludes to the patriotism of Massachusetts soldiers and ... sons, and says—

Unionists in no doubt a sense, we have said from the beginning that the government, at ... that any class of men or of interests, has an original and inappreciable right to the devoted and hearty service of every subject of its protection and power

We deny the righteousness of the rebellion, and we are in arms against it, and we have equally denied that the rebel States could rightfully be allowed to impose their treasonable will upon any human being whose interest or desires would make him loyal, while our wives surrender their husbands, and our fathers their sons, to all the perils of a dreadful war waged by rebellion

We have never discovered a reason why the rebels should retain their slaves and compel them to be rebellious. Supporting always the government without conditions as to its policy, we rejoice with unutterable joy that its policy is that of human nature and not that of Satan sophistry, and we hail the returning day of the plain virtues which our national departure from the practice of justice and the principles of our fathers had discouraged in the North, and had overthrown in the South.

In a few brief years we shall have paid the national debt incurred during the present war, by the enlarged value which freedom will have given to the property of the rebel States, the increased productive ability of freedom over the slaves, and their multiplied power to buy and consume the products of manufactures and the arts.

The people of America will have saved the Union—saved democratic and republican liberty; both menaced by the same danger; will have perpetuated the government, magnified the constitution and made it honorable, and will have crowned a great career of glory with an act of expediant justice unequalled for its grandeur in all the history of mankind.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., 8th.

Murfreesboro was finally deserted by our army and Gen. Rosecrans' headquarters are advanced 10 miles beyond.

The gunboat W. E. Hidell has arrived with transports from Clarksville, containing 4000 bbls flour, 10,000 pounds bacon, 900 sacks of oats, 2000 sacks shelled corn. The gunboat captured two rebel captains with horses and mules.

The river has shrunk 3½ feet since ... on the shoals.

FRANKFORT, Ky., 9th.

The Legislature met today.

Gov. Robinson recommends in his message that Kentucky protest the Free dealt proclamation and protest against any interference with her State policy as unwarranted by the Constitution.

He thinks the proclamation giving freedom to slaves in rebellious States, inflicts a fatal though indirect blow.

He says the saddest effect of the proclamation will be to fire the whole South with one burning mass of inextinguishable hate, and destroy all hope of restoring the Union, which is only possible by adhering to the Constitution as it was.

He further says that, the most serious aggregate of the proclamation is the usurpation of the ... of Government by the President under the plea of military necessity. He ... the Legislature to place on record their protest against the proclamation.

WASHINGTON, 9th.

A private letter from the blockading fleet off Mobile, Dec 29, says many deserters report that Jim Hardship commands in Mobile. They have ... meat ... a week and oysters only at all other times. They have no sugar, no tea, and no coffee.

The pirate Oreto is still in harbor. Our fleet expects her to stay there.

WASHINGTON, 9th.

Information from the Army of the Potomac says that contrabands agree in stating that rebel ... incursions are nightly made below King George Court House for a long distance and negroes are carried away and sent South.

The greater portion of the slaves in Long Neck ... between the Rappahannock and Potomac, have already escaped to our lines, bringing with them their master's teams and other property. They avail themselves of night for their exodus.

DENMARK, 9th.

The Legislature yesterday re-elected Mr. Chandler Senator for six years.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY,
Washington, Jan. 9th.

To Major General Rosecrans, Commanding Army of the Cumberland:

General—Rebel accounts fully confirm your telegrams from the battle field. The victory was well earned, and is one of the most brilliant of the war.

You and your brave army have won the gratitude of your country and the admiration of the world.

The field of Murfreesboro is made historical, and future generations will point out the places where so many braves fell gloriously in defence of the Constitution and the Union.

All honor to the Army of the Cumberland.—Thanks to the living and tears for the lamented dead.

WASHINGTON, 9th.

In the McDowell court of inquiry today, Brig. General Roberts, late Gen. Pope's Chief of Cavalry, was examined with reference to the battle of Cedar Mountain. He explained at length and in detail, all the movements of the troops of Generals Banks and McDowell on that occasion and say that Gen. Banks himself brought on that engagement, not the enemy. On the discovery of the much greater force of the enemy than General Banks' he believed the witness was first to notify Gen. Pope of the fact. He also explained the importance of having General McDowell's forces just where they were at the time of the battle under the information with reference to the force of the enemy, and their movements which General Banks must bank to headquarters of Gen. The returns of the Congressional election held on the 1st, in 4 of the 11 counties of the 2d district, come in slowly.

Latest returns are more favorable to Mr. Foster, the free labor, candidate, who received the solid vote of all the North Carolina Union soldiers who are qualified electors. Lenoman, however, in the oath of allegiance was not rejected at Pasquotank, Gov. Stanly's candidate, Mr. Pigott, has doubtless received a considerable majority in the district.

Col Hoyt D. Wells, an old 48th and respected citizen of Beaufort, and a consistent Union man, received a battering this a. m. in Craven county.

Returns of Unionists refused from voting, and the entire vote polled will not reach 2000, and the entire vote polled will not reach 2000. The secession majority would have that Congress will refuse to recognize the validity of the election, in consequence of the reception of many ballots, votes which were received in accordance with the express instructions of the military Governor.

The Union and Free Labor men of Eastern North Carolina are to hold and big gathering meeting to protest against the recognition and to appoint an Attorney to go to Washington to expose and dispute it.

The immediate removal of Governor Stanley will also be demanded.

The royal mail steamship Africa, from Liverpool 27th and Queenstown 28th, arrived here this morning.

The London Daily News editorially denounces the miserable spite which is continually being shown between American and English, which arouses and sustains risk of war

It looks on the contributions to relieve Lancashire distress as honest and true manifestation of existing American feeling towards England, and as them against many billigerent threats, having nothing in them but passion of the moment. It concludes as follows—

"On the whole, we rest in two convictions, viz., that there will be no war between the two countries, and that there is no war not the responsibility for it already rests with those of our countrymen, who, out of the repose of peace at home, speak and write whatever is most irritating to a people subject to irritations of revolution and war.

The City of Manchester took out, via Cape Race, accounts of the battle of Fredericksburg.

The London Times thinks it plain that Burnside has received a damaging repulse. If he retrieves it by force or strategy he is a great General. Renewed attacks after days of interval do not often succeed, but he may carry the enemy's works or turn them. If, however, he should fail once more, he has put himself in the most disastrous position known to a General, and an enterprising enemy ought to according to all rules of warfare, destroy him, horse and foot.

The Times again adverts to and dissects the recent American diplomatic correspondence and says that and Mr. Seward consulted his own reputation he would not have published many of these private letters, as they essentially are.

Writing before the battle of Fredericksburg, the New York correspondent of the Times eulogizes the passage of the Rappahannock by federals as one of the noblest episodes of war.

In a subsequent telegram per steamer China, the same correspondent describes the battle of Fredericksburg one of the fiercest and decidedly the most sanguinary of the war, to the federal army, and says that the troops fought with more determined courage, but that confederate position was impregnable.

The Times again adverts to the animosity of the federals against England, and regarding that a lack of sympathy in England is the only cause of offense, and it seeks to justify that cause.

The Daily News replies to a letter from R.T. Baxter, M. P., in which that gentleman says: Gone the effort of the emancipation movement, and says it prefers to believe that the salvation both of the negro and the white race, will spring out of it may rather than to accept Mr. Baxter's gloomier prediction.

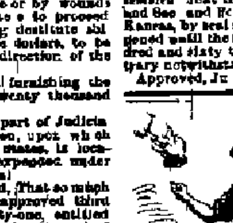
[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 63.]

A RESOLUTION suspending the sale by sealed bids of the lands of the Kansas and Sac and Fox Indians

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sales of the lands of the Kansas and Sac and Fox tribes of Indians of the State of Kansas, by sealed bids, be and the same are postponed until the fourth day of March eighteen hundred and sixty three any treaty or law to the contrary notwithstanding.

Approved, July 17th, 1862.



The peculiar taint or infection which we call Scrofula lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation," indeed it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These all having the same origin require the same remedy, viz. purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul or corrupted blood you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

THE OLD

HOMESTEAD TONIC.

LET our possessions be what they may—marble palaces, broad lands magnificent plate or caskets of precious stones—they all sink in the balance as against Heaven's great boon HEALTH, and they cannot be enjoyed without it. The language of nature at eats that whoever would enjoy the pleasures of food the beauties of flowers, rural landscapes, the joys of companionship, the riches of literature or the honors of station and renown must preserve their health. And yet how little is it valued and how carelessly preserved. The stomach is the receptacle of all nourishment, and the fountain from which all parts of the body derive their sustenance. When foul impure food enters the stomach its sympathy disorganizes all other organs and disease more or less painful must follow. The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. Night revelry luxurious living irregularity of meals and a disordered appetite will gradually destroy the power and activity of the stomach. How many ladies and gentlemen eat and drink disease at late suppers, and arise in the morning with head ache loss of appetite feeling languid, unrefreshed, feverish, low spirited weak and incapacitated to performance mental or physical duty and dream not this is the beginning of that horrid disease which assumes a thousand shapes and points towards a miserable life and premature decay. — There can be no medical remedy that will turn lead into food or poisoned drinks into nourishment but medical science can assist nature supply exhausted fluids, and to a great extent correct the effects of disease when the habits are abandoned.

The Medical Faculty has exhausted its research for generations in creating appetizers and overcoming stomachic derangements. Its leading ingredients were well established as possessing beneficial qualities, among these were Calisaya Bark and St. Croix Rum. But still components were wanting and regularity could not be obtained. An invalid physician sojourning in the tropical island of St. Croix observed the habits of the natives, and gathered from them the recipe for the final accomplishment of this most important end. Its component parts largely incorporated in the vegetable diet of that island produced the effect without a proper knowledge of the causes. The article was first made and introduced as a private medicine. Its effects were so salutary that it is now being produced and consumed in immense quantities under the name of "Drake's Plantation Bitters or Old Homestead Tonic." They act with the power of a magic spell, are taken by old or young with the pleasure of a beverage. The sale of these Bitters was at first confined to our extreme Southern cities but they are now becoming well known throughout the world and are recommended with the most unbounded confidence by all who have been suffering from a disordered or diseased stomach such as Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Craving after or Loss of Appetite, Intermittent Fever, Diarrhoea, Sour Stomach, Headache, Fever and Ague Weakness, &c.

As a morning appetizer and after dinner tonic they are held in high estimation and should be found upon the side board of every family. They are also much relied upon in the Tropics for Scrofula, Rheumatism and Dropsy.

S--T--1860--X.

That you may be your own judge of the efficacy of these celebrated Bitters we submit a partial formula of the articles of which they are composed. St. Croix Rum. The tonic properties of pure St. Croix Rum are well known and it has long been recommended by physicians. It is manufactured from the Sugar Cane Plant and that we use is selected with great care from the estates of a few planters in the interior of that island. Calisaya, or King's Bark, was unknown to civilization until the middle of the seventeenth century. The natives of Peru are generally supposed to have been long previously acquainted with its most wonderful medicinal qualities. Humboldt makes favorable mention of the febrifuge qualities of this article as an antidote to FEVER AND AGUE, Intermittent and Malarious Fevers in his exhaustive South American travels.

CASCARILLA BARK is another important ingredient. It was known in Germany as early as 1790, and much used as a substitute for Peruvian Syrup. It is employed as a gentle stimulant and tonic in Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhoea, Cholic, Dysentery, and Diseases of the stomach and bowels. DANDELION is used for inflammation of the loins and spleen in cases of bilious secretions and dropsical affections dependent on obstructions of the abdominal viscera and derangement of the digestive organs generally.— CHAMOMILE FLOWERS used for enfeebled digestion and want of appetite. WINTER GREEN is a medicinal plant of very great efficiency and is especially valuable in Scrofula, Rheumatism and Nefretic affections. LAVENDER FLOWERS an aromatic stimulant and tonic, highly invigorating in nervous debility, generous to the palate and stomach. ANISE an aromatic carminative creating ... muscle and milk. Much used in nursing. S—T—1860—X. Another ingredient of remarkable and wonderful virtues used in the preparation of these Bitters—is a native of Brazil and as yet unknown to the commerce of the world. A Spanish writer says * * * * "administered with St. Croix rum it never fails to relieve Nervous tremor, Wakefulness, disturbed sleep &c; and that it is used with great effect by the Brazilian, Spanish and Peruvian ladies to heighten their color and beauty. It imparts cheerfulness to the disposition, and brilliancy to the complexion." We withhold its name from the public for the present.

To the above are added Clove buds, Orange, Carraway, Coriander and Snake root. The whole is combined by a perfect chemical process, and under the immediate supervision of a skillful and scientific Pharmaceutist.

"Drake's Plantation Bitters," or "Old Homestead Tonic," are put up in Patent Bottles, representing a Swiss cottage and are an ornament to the side board.

Sea Sickness. Travellers by railroad or upon the inland rivers where the great change of water is such a prolific cause of incipient disease like Billious, Intermittent, Ague and Chill Fevers, may feel a certain reliance if they protect themselves with these Bitters. The muddy water of the Western rivers, filled with decayed vegetable and animal matter is quite sure to produce disease unless guarded by an antidote such as is found in the Plantation Bitters.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE PLANTATION BITTERS

"Philadelphia, 1st month 16th day, 1862.

ESTEEMED FRIEND. Wilt thou send me another Case of thy Bitters? Nothing has proven so beneficial or agreeable to my invalid wife and myself, as the Plantation Bitters.

Thy Friend, ISAAC HOWLAND."

N. B.—The secret of the immense sale of the Plantation Bitters is, their tested purity. The St. Croix Rum and every article used is warranted perfectly pure.

It is the intention of the Proprietors to sustain the reputation of this article upon its merit.
